

Corrections And Law Enforcement Accreditation Commissions Come Together Under One Roof!

Welcome to the new Florida Accreditation Commissions newsletter! As many of you already know, the CFA office has been going through a transformation since July 1st and is now the Florida Accreditation Office. Our new mission is to support both the law enforcement and corrections accreditation Commissions and their client agencies. FDLE's approved legislative budget request included support for the FCAC Executive Director and a third Program Manager. Beginning January 2006 the Program Managers will be assigned to one of three regions, serving both law enforcement and corrections clients. We will be using the remainder of the year to hire and train the Program Managers in their new responsibilities. Executive Director Kim Bogart is currently splitting his time between his office in New Port Richey and the office here in Orlando assisting with the Managers to deliver the level of service our clients forward to meeting and working with corrections

SRIC UPDATES

FLORIDA CORRECTIONS ACCREDITATION COMMISSION

At its June meeting, the FCAC adopted new standards to address the Prison Rape Elimination Act and amended several existing standards. In addition, the Commission approved changes to the quantities of proofs required and made modifications to the Glossary, Appendix A, and the Legend for interpreting proof quantity requirements. Please visit the Accreditation Office website at www.flaccreditation.org to view or download these documents.

Accreditation managers and assessors should read Change Notice 3.0.03 closely. Significant changes have been made regarding quantities of proofs, which facilities may apply immediately without accepting the change notice in its entirety. This is fully explained in the notice.
