LIMITATIONS OF LIABILITY

The Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc, a Florida corporation, makes no warranty, express or implied, for the benefit of any person or entity with regard to any aspect of the standards contained herein. These standards were adopted for the sole use of the Commission for the exclusive purpose of their application to the agencies/facilities seeking to obtain or maintain accreditation, there being no intended third party beneficiaries hereof, expressed or implied. Nothing herein shall be construed so as to create any right, cause, property interest, or entitlement on the part of any applicant agency or third party. These standards shall in no way be construed to be an individual act of any commissioner, director, employee, agency, member, individual, or legal entity associated with the Commission or otherwise be construed so as to create any liability in an individual or official capacity on the part of any commissioner, director, employee, agency, member, individual, or a legal entity associated with the Commission.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

In an effort to keep up with current corrections trends, criminal justice issues, and Florida Statutes, the Standards Review and Interpretation Committee (SRIC) and the Commission have been accepting and reviewing input from pretrial and probation practitioners for improving the Florida Standards Manual. The second edition is the final result of various committee and subcommittee meetings, executive workshops, and numerous individual hours dedicated to addressing all suggestions and concerns.

The work of the Standards Review and Interpretation Committee is endless and many dedicated professionals contributed to this edition. The Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc. thanks the past and present members of the SRIC for ensuring that second edition continues to meet the needs of the Florida pretrial and probation community.

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

An accreditation program has long been recognized as a means of maintaining the highest standards of professionalism. Schools, universities, and hospitals are some of the most well-known organizations required to maintain accredited status. The accreditation process is an outstanding management tool for criminal justice agencies. Accreditation provides a blueprint for building an agency committed to providing value-based services through accountability and transparency to the communities it serves.

The Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc. (FCAC)

In July 1997, during the Florida Sheriff's Association (FSA) meeting in Naples, Florida, a sub-committee was formed by the Florida Model Jail Standards (FMJS) Committee to develop an independent, voluntary corrections accreditation program.

The FCAC program offers correctional facilities and pretrial agencies the opportunity to evaluate their operations against established standards.

The Commission's purpose is to improve the delivery of correctional and pretrial services through an accreditation program based on Florida law and best practices. The program has the following objectives:

- Establishment and maintenance of a system of professional operating standards for local correctional facilities
- Administration of an accreditation process that encourages facilities to raise their level of professionalism by voluntarily complying with standards promulgated and approved by the Commission
- Review levels of compliance with standards through a comprehensive, assessment of a facility's policies, procedures, and actual practice
- Development and provision of training programs to assist facilities and their personnel with the accreditation process
- Ensure that the business affairs and programs of the Commission are conducted in a professional manner
- Promote the concept of accreditation to correctional facilities throughout the State of Florida

In October 2005, President Jeff Kilpatrick and Manager David Scharf, representing the Association of Pretrial Professionals of Florida (APPF), approached the Commission to create an accreditation program for agencies with pretrial responsibilities. The program was officially adopted January 1, 2007.

In January 2015, the Commission was approached by the probation community and asked to consider adding standards related to probation. Commissioners saw this as a logical extension to the existing pretrial program, and a committee was appointed to work with the Florida Association of Community Corrections to develop standards. As a result, the FPAP now addresses agencies with pretrial and probation responsibilities.

The Florida Pretrial and Probation Accreditation Program (FPAP) offers the opportunity to evaluate each agency's operations against standards developed by the Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission. This process allows staff to remedy deficiencies and upgrade the quality of pretrial and probation programs and services.

THE COMMISSION

The FCAC was formed in January 1998 as an independent, not-for-profit corporation. The Commission's purpose is to establish a program for accreditation that can be achieved by all Florida jails and pretrial agencies. The Commission is comprised of 12 volunteer members:

- Four sheriffs appointed by the FSA
- Six jail administrators appointed by the FCAC Nominating Committee
- Two pretrial professionals appointed by the Association of Pretrial Professionals of Florida (APPF)

The Role of the Commission

The Commissioners set forth all policies and procedures for the accreditation process. They are responsible for the direction and operation of the Florida Accreditation Office (FAO).

The Commission holds three meetings annually for reviewing agencies for accreditation or reaccreditation. Assessors play a key role in this review process by serving as representatives of the Commissions. Commissioners determine an agency's accredited status based on the information provided by the assessment team. The Commissions hear all appeals and are responsible for resolving any conflicts that cannot be resolved during the assessment.

The Philosophy of the Commission

The Florida accreditation process is designed to reflect best practices in the areas of law enforcement, inspectors general, corrections, pretrial and probation management, administration, operations, and support services. The Commission expects agencies to maintain compliance and presumes agencies operate in compliance with their established directives.

Commission Staff

The Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) provides funding for positions in an effort to support the Commissions and agencies going through the accreditation process. In conjunction with the FDLE, the CFA and the FCAC appoint the Executive Director, who manages the FAO staff and the accreditation programs.

The Executive Director and staff have the responsibility and authority to carry out all policies, procedures, and activities of the Commissions and their committees. This includes supporting agencies working toward accreditation or reaccreditation, overseeing the assessment process, coordinating Commission meetings and review, and handling all business matters and daily operations.

The FAO serves as the Commissions' information and materials resource center. Training classes are regularly held for accreditation managers and new assessors. Specialized training is also offered during each accreditation conference.

INITIAL ACCREDITATION

Agencies begin the accreditation process with an application. Once the application is completed and submitted to the Commission for review to determine eligibility, an agreement and invoice are sent to the applicant agency. The formal accreditation process begins when the agency executes this agreement, which specifies the obligations of the agency and the Commission. The agency has twenty-four months to complete the self-assessment phase from the date the executive director signs the accreditation agreement.

REACCREDITATION

Initial accreditation is valid for three years and annual reports are due by January 31st of each year. The accreditation manager should continue to evaluate the agency's progress toward meeting accreditation standards by monitoring changes to the written directive system and how they affect agency compliance.

Proofs for a reaccreditation are required to show compliance from assessment to assessment. The Commission review for reaccreditation will occur on or about the agency's anniversary date.

THE STANDARDS

Scope

The Commission expects accredited agencies to maintain compliance and live by the letter and spirit of the standards. The Commission presumes agencies operate in compliance with their written directives. The agency must consider its mission, its legally mandated responsibilities, and the demands of its service community when determining which standards are applicable and how to comply with applicable standards. The standards provide a description of “what” must be accomplished by the applicant agency. The agency has wide latitude in determining “how” to achieve compliance.

Composition

Each chapter begins with an “Introduction”, which provides important guidance to an agency regarding the subject area, its applicability, or related standards.

Each standard is composed of the standard statement and at least one proof of compliance. The standard statement is a declarative sentence that places a requirement on the agency. Many standards require the development and implementation of directives. Other standards require an activity, a report, an inspection, equipment, or other action that may be observed. The standard statement is binding on the agency.

Proofs of compliance are the recommended means for the agency to demonstrate compliance with standards. The proofs are included to help the Accreditation Manager and others involved in the process to understand the type and sufficiency of proofs necessary to demonstrate compliance.

Applicability

Standards may or may not be applicable depending upon the functions performed by the agency. Assessors must review all standards to identify those not applicable by function. For example, if an agency does not perform the court security function, then the chapter dealing with court security becomes not applicable (N/A). However, simply because an agency may not perform the function, the standard may still apply. For example, standards in the communication chapter of the CFA standards manual would need to be addressed even if the agency does not perform these functions internally. Standards are considered applicable if the function is an integral element for improving the delivery of services or professional management of an agency. Standards beginning with an “if” statement indicates a conditional requirement. If the condition pertains to a function not applying to the agency, the standard becomes N/A. Assessors will verify that functions are not applicable during the assessment. The Commission reserves the right to require compliance with any standard.

Standards that are mandatory address life, health, and safety issues; legal matters; or essential pretrial and probation requirements. These standards have a letter “M” placed immediately following the standard number. The agency is required to meet all of these standards unless a standard does not apply to the agency’s function.

If an agency is prevented from complying with an applicable mandatory standard due to circumstances beyond its control, such as labor contracts, court decrees, it may ask the Commission to waive the obligation to comply. The agency must make the request in writing during the self-assessment phase. If the Executive Director accepts the request, the agency is given conditional approval. Assessors will verify waiver conditions during the assessment and complete the form. The Commission will make a final determination during the agency’s review.

Proofs of Compliance

A standard is in compliance when the proofs demonstrate an agency has met all of the standard requirements to include interviews, observations and time-sensitive requirements.

Elements of a File

- Written directives
 - Policy/procedure
 - Plan
 - Rule
 - General/special order
 - State law or local ordinance
 - Collective bargaining agreement

- Supporting documentation (other than written directives)
 - Memoranda
 - Computer printouts
 - Job description/JTAs
 - Letters from citizens
 - Logs/rosters/evaluations
 - Budget documents
 - Instructional materials
 - Police reports
 - Incident reports

- Observations/Interviews
 - Activities
 - Equipment
 - Security
 - Facility
 - Policies
 - Procedures

Agencies have one year from the published date of the standards manual to comply with newly issued standards, or as directed by the Commission or Florida Statutes. Agencies must notify their FAO Program Manager regarding which edition and change notices apply prior to conduct of the assessment. Assessors will verify agencies are following the appropriate standards manual.

New or Amended Standards

Unless otherwise directed by the Commission, new or amended standards are effective upon publication. Agencies seeking initial accreditation, reaccreditation, or having already achieved accreditation or reaccreditation must demonstrate compliance with new or amended standards at their first assessments following the publication dates of those standards. However, if those assessments occur within one year after publication of new or amended standards, agencies may delay compliance for up to one year after the enactment dates of those standards.

GLOSSARY

ACA: The American Correctional Association

Accredit: The bestowing of credentials upon practitioners or institutions symbolizing approval from a professional organization.

Accreditation Manager: An employee designated by the agency administrator to supervise the planning and implementation of accreditation activities in the agency.

Applicant Agency: An agency that has submitted an application to the Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission.

Agency: The governing authority with direct responsibility for operating a pretrial or probation program, and for formulating and implementing policy.

Annual: Occurring once every 12 months.

Certified Member: An agency member, employed or appointed as a full-time or part-time correctional or law enforcement officer with CJSTC certification.

CFA: The Commission for Florida Law Enforcement Accreditation, Inc.

Civilian Member: A full or part-time member who is not CJSTC certified and currently employed or appointed.

CJSTC: The Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission.

Community Supervision: Includes employees, programs, automation and communication systems and specialized supervision approaches. May include Radio Frequency tracking, GPS tracking, voice recognition systems and others as deemed appropriate by the agency or jurisdiction.

Electronic Monitoring: The act of observing, listening, carrying-out surveillance on, and/or recording the actions of individuals released under supervision. Includes GPS and alcohol monitoring.

Emergency: Any significant disruption of normal facility or agency procedure, policy, or activity cause by riot, escape, fire, natural disaster, employee action, or other serious incident.

Employee: Any person employed full or part-time, under contract with, or appointed by a county or municipal government or officer.

External Financial Review: A review completed by a person or entity external to the agency.

FCAC: Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc.

Field Supervision: Refers to activity performed by pretrial or probation employees involving a presence in the community for supervision purposes.

Grievance: Formal request in writing presented to management to resolve differences in matters identified by the agency and/or collective bargaining agreement.

Grievance Process: A formal program designed to manage and respond to a grievance. The grievance process must be written and available to employees, and must outline steps required of the persons(s) filing the grievance and the form of response required of management.

Internal Audit: An examination and review conducted by an entity within the agency but outside the chain of command of the unit to be audited.

Lesson Plan: A detailed guide an instructor uses to conduct a course of instruction. A lesson plan may include goals, specific subject matter, performance objectives, references, resources, and methods for evaluating or testing students.

Mandatory Standards: Standards that address life, health, safety issues, legal matters or essential pretrial, probation or business practices. Every agency is required to meet all of these standards except those which do not apply to the agency/facility by reason of function. Determination as to whether a mandatory standard does not apply to an agency/facility rests solely with the Commission.

Member: See employee.

Mission Statement: A statement of the role or purpose, by which an organization intends to operate. Typically, a mission statement should describe what the organization does, who it serves, and what makes the organization unique.

Not Applicable Standards: Standards that address areas of responsibility or correctional practices for which the agency is not responsible, or is not performing due to contracts, jurisdiction, or mutual aid agreements.

Optional Standards: Standards that address important or desirable pretrial, management, and business practices. An agency may elect to not show compliance for optional standards.

Parent Agency: The Sheriff's Office, Board of County Commissioners, or judiciary, to whom the Pretrial Services Supervisor reports and which provides administrative and/or financial support.

Periodic: Occurring once during the reaccreditation cycle.

Plan: A detailed scheme, program or method worked out in advance for the accomplishment of an objective (e.g., plan of attack); proposed or tentative project; systematic arrangement of details; an outline; drawing or diagram made to scale showing the structure or arrangement of something.

Policy: A course of action adopted and pursued by an agency that guides and determines present and future decisions and conduct. Policies indicate the general course or direction of an organization within which the activities of the personnel might operate. Their attainment may lead to compliance with standards as well as compliance with the overall goals of the agency or system.

Pretrial Responsibilities: Responsibilities by pretrial staff members which include conducting pretrial investigations, making recommendations to the court, performing community supervision or case management functions, or directly supervising staff who are responsible for any of these functions.

Probation Responsibilities: Responsibilities by probation staff members which include conducting intake interviews, making recommendations to the court, performing community supervision or case management functions, or directly supervising staff who are responsible for any of these functions.

Procedure: A manner of proceeding; a way of performing or effecting something; an act composed of steps; a course of action; a set of established forms or methods for conducting the affairs of the agency.

Proofs of Compliance: Documentation assembled as part of a file to prove compliance with a standard.

Protected Class: A characteristic of a person which cannot be targeted for discrimination.

Qualified Interpreter: A professional who facilitates communication between deaf and hearing individuals. A qualified interpreter is able to interpret effectively, accurately and impartially both receptively and expressively, using any necessary specialized vocabulary. The qualified interpreter has specialized training in interpreting from one language to another for example, American Sign Language [ASL] to English and English to ASL. Simply knowing both sign language and English does not qualify a person as an interpreter. The role of an interpreter is to accurately convey all messages between the individuals involved in the communication setting.

Rules and Regulations: Specific articles describing and/or prohibiting behavior, actions or conduct.

Selection Criteria: The rules, standards, or requirements used to make a judgment concerning filling a specific position.

Selection Process: The combination of elements and procedures utilized to make the final decision regarding filling a position, including minimum qualifications (e.g., education, experience, citizenship, residency), written tests, performance tests, oral exams, interviews, background investigation, medical exams, polygraph tests, police academy ratings, personality inventories, psychiatric evaluations, and veteran preferences.

Specialized Training: Training to enhance skills, knowledge and abilities. Specialized training may address supervisory, management and/or executive development training, or it may include technical and job specific subjects.

Standard: A statement adopted by FCAC which defines, represents, or reflects a desired level of compliance.

TRS – Telecommunications Relay Services. TRS permits persons with a hearing or speech disability to use the telephone system via a text telephone (TTY) or other device to call persons with or without such disabilities.

TTY – Text Telephone. A special device that allows people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech-impaired to use the telephone to communicate, by allowing them to type messages back and forth to one another instead of talking and listening. A TTY is required at both ends of the conversation in order to communicate.

Value Statements: Organizational values define the acceptable standards which govern the behavior of individuals within the organization. Value statements provide a framework for the collective leadership of organizations to encourage common norms or behavior, which will support the achievement of the organization's goals and mission.

Written Directive: Written documentation used to guide the actions of members and establish facility policy and practices. Examples include General Orders, Standard Operating Procedures, Florida State Statutes, Post Orders, or other program and /or service manuals that prove adherence to a specific standard.
